An “oracle of consolation” regarding the restoration of Israel finds its fulfillment in the person of Jesus, our merciful high priest. His healing of the blind witnesses to the inauguration of the kingdom.

Pastor’s Corner

Inter Mirifica: An Exposition

Beloved Parishioners,

In this week Pastor’s Corner, I share with you the church’s document on social communication and social media. Next week I would share more on my pilgrimage to Holy Places visited during this period.

The document Inter mirifica (Latin for “Among the wonderful”), subtitled “Decree on the Media of Social Communication”, is one of the Second Vatican Council’s 16 magisterial documents promulgated on 4 December 1963, by Pope Paul VI. In this document, the Church welcomes and promotes the various wonderful technological discoveries of the modern time especially “those media which, such as the press, movies, radio, television and the likes, of their very nature, reach and influence, not only individuals, but the very masses and the whole of human society, and thus can rightly be called the media of social communication.” (IM, 1).

The Church made salient recognitions of different facts about the media of social communication noting that “these media if properly utilized, can be of great service to mankind, they greatly contribute to men’s entertainment and instruction as well as to the spread and support of the Kingdom of God” (IM, 2). However, the Church admits that these media can be abused contrary to the design of God and to the decimation and loss of man. Thus, the Church teaches that “it is the duty of Pastors to instruct and guide the faithful so that they, with the help of these same media, may further the salvation and perfection of themselves and of the entire human family. In addition, the laity especially must strive to instill a human and Christian spirit into these media, so that they may fully measure up to the great expectations of mankind and to God’s design.” (IM, 4)

Furthermore, the Church noted that the news we disseminate in the media should always be true and complete, within the bounds of justice and charity, and the manner in which we disseminate them should be proper and decent. To the young, the Church noted that they should ensure that they accustom themselves to moderation and self-control in the use of the media and not become obsessed with it. In the same vein, the Church observed that parents should remember that they have a most serious duty to guard carefully television shows, publications and other things of this sort, which may be morally harmful, to enter their homes or affect their children under other circumstances.

The Church highlights that the moral responsibility for the proper use of the media of social communication falls on newsmen, writers, actors, designers, producers, displayers, distributors, operators and sellers, as well as critics and all others who play any part in the production and transmission of mass presentations. As such, the Church admonishes them to adjust their economic, political, or artistic and technical aspects so as never to oppose the common good. Again, they ought always to be mindful that a great number of their readers and audience are young people, who need a press and entertainment that offer them decent amusement and cultural uplift. In addition, they should see to it that communications or presentations concerning religious matters are entrusted to worthy and experienced hands and are carried out with fitting reverence.

The Church charges the various public authorities to promulgate and carefully enforce laws that will ensure a fitting and careful watch, lest grave damage befall public morals and the welfare of society through the base use of these media. It subsequently charges them to diligently assume the duty of protecting and safeguarding true and just freedom of information, especially when it is a question of freedom of the press. Public authorities are to encourage spiritual values, culture and the fine arts that guarantee the rights of those who wish to use the media.

More so, the Church advocates that in order to instill a fully Christian spirit into Catholics, a truly Catholic press should be set up and encouraged. Such a press—whether immediately fostered and directed by ecclesiastical authorities or by Catholic laymen—should be edited with the clear purpose of forming, supporting and advancing public opinion in accord with natural law and Catholic teaching and precepts. It should disseminate and properly explain news concerning the life of the Church. Moreover, the faithful ought to be advised of the necessity both to spread and read the Catholic press to formulate Christian judgments for themselves on all events. Here in the diocese, we have the Catholic Sun which I have found very beneficial in uplifting my spiritual reading.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.

Theme: God Does Miracles in Our Lives

30th Sunday in Ordinary Time Year B, October 27, 2024

First Reading: Jeremiah 31:7-9, Second Reading: Hebrews 5:1-6, Gospel: Mark 10:46-52.

Prophet Jeremiah, in the first reading, presents us with God's infinite love for His people. It is a message of hope to the remnant of Israel. Yahweh promises to bring back his people in exile from the lands to which they have been scattered. Jeremiah is known at times for his prophecy of disasters and catastrophes, the only words he seemed to be able to utter were threats. In today's passage he announces good news to the people. He invites all to be cheerful and make merry, for according to him, God is about to work great miracles in their midst. God will liberate the people of Israel who have been in exile in Nineveh for about hundred years to return to their land. In the same way, God's blessings of mercy, restoration and healing is what I pray for you as we are gradually coming to the end of this month. May the same great news of restoration and freedom announced by Jeremiah to his people liberate you from anything affecting your life at this moment. The second reading tells us that the high priest chosen from among men is appointed to act on behalf of men in relation to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. He deals patiently with the ignorant and erring, for he himself is beset by weakness and so, for this reason, must make sin offerings for himself as well as for the people. The passage gives the insight of the priestly ministry which is rooted in offering prayers and sacrifices for himself and on behalf the people of God.

Mark, in the Gospel, presents us with the healing of Bartimaeus the blind beggar. It is also a classic case of God's love and concern for the plight of people, the plight of men and women and those who go through difficult moments. He is not indifferent to the challenges we encounter in our daily life here on earth. He is touched, He feels our needs and He come to liberate us whenever we call on Him. The healing of Bartimaeus encourages us never to give up in calling on Him. You may have prayed for a particular intention and never got any positive response, and you lack the courage to continue because you don't want to be disappointed. Once again, take courage and keep calling; don't give up. Bartimaeus never allowed anything to stop him from calling unto Jesus. In the same way, do not allow anything to stop you. Persistence is a key virtue to attract the miracle of God.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.

Parishioner Gathering at the Park

All parishioners are invited to a picnic at the bowl area of Rotary Park on Sunday, November 3, 2024. We will gather at 3:00 pm and celebrate until 6:00 pm.

The main dish will be supplied by the Parish. Parishioners should bring their own individual side dish, drinks, chairs and/or blankets.

NO alcohol is allowed. There will be games for the kiddos and fellowship for the adults. We hope you will come join us!

Volunteer Appreciation

Please join us on Saturday, November 23, 2024 at the 4:00 pm Mass to say thank you to all our volunteers for their time & talents! A country themed barbeque will follow in St. Joseph Hall. Come dressed in your cowboy boots or come as you are. Please call the Parish Office at 928-855-2685 to RSVP.

SPIRITUAL COMMUNION PRAYER

(For those who are not able to receive Communion at this time)

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive you sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separate from you. Amen

All Souls Day

Come join Fr. Tony on Saturday November 2nd at 11:00 am at the Lake Havasu Memorial Gardens for a Special Mass for all the Poor Souls in Purgatory.

REMEMBERING OUR LOVED ONES

By tradition, the Catholic Church dedicates the month of November to the Holy Souls in the Purgatory, those faithful Christians who have died and gone before us but who still must atone for their sins. The time they spend in Purgatory cleanses them so that they may enter heaven free from all effects of sin.

Praying for the dead, especially for those we have known, is part of Christian charity. Our prayers and sacrifices can be offered up to relieve their suffering.

The parish will offer over 40 Masses this November for all the faithfully departed whose names are written in the Book of Memory located in the Narthex of the church. This is a wonderful opportunity for you to pray for and remember your parents, children, grandparents, family and friends.

Envelopes are available for your sacrificial offering to pray for the deceased.

Virtue of the Month

The Virtue for October is Meekness.

Proverbs 20:3

“Any fool can start arguments. The honorable thing is to stay out of them.”

Matthew 5:5

“Happy are those who are humble. They will receive what God has promised.”

Ephesians 4: 26-27

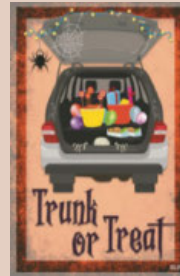

“If you become angry, do not let your anger lead you into sin; and do not stay angry all day.”

Prayer for Meekness

Dear Jesus,

Be king of my heart, especially when I am frustrated or angry.

In those moments, give me the grace to use all my emotions to do good. Amen.
