The Twenty-Eighth Sunday In Ordinary Time

October 12, 2025

The Lord has revealed his saving power to all the nations! Naaman, a Syrian, is healed, and lepers are made whole, but only the Samaritan returns to give thanks. Let us remain steadfast in faith, and thankful for the Lord's blessings.

Pastor's Corner

PRESERVING ORTHODOXY AND TRUTH

Beloved Parishioners,

I continue my reflection in this forum on some doctrines which I started last week. Today I reflect on heresies and the church's response. Every age has its peculiar fake news, counterfeits, and scams. Today, we deal with online fraud, pyramid or ponzi schemes, and misleading headlines that spread faster than the truth. In the early Church, it was no different — except the “fake news” was about Jesus Himself. Just as we now fact-check before we believe, the Church had to “truth-check” ideas that twisted the Gospel. These false teachings, called heresies, threatened to confuse the faithful. Yet in God's providence, they also led the Church to proclaim the Creed, defend the sacraments, and even settle which books belong in the Bible.

When you open the Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC 2089), you find a strong but clear statement: “Heresy is the obstinate post-baptismal denial of some truth which must be believed with divine and Catholic faith, or it is likewise an obstinate doubt concerning the same.” In simple terms, heresy begins when someone baptized into Christ decides to reject part of the faith handed down from the apostles. It is like a musician in an orchestra deliberately playing the wrong notes, not out of mistake, but out of pride — and refusing to play in harmony with the rest.

In the early centuries, Christians wrestled with how best to speak about Jesus. Who is He? How is He both God and man? Gnosticism in the 2nd century whispered about a “secret knowledge” that only a few chosen souls could possess, but the Church replied with St. Irenaeus' powerful words: “The glory of God is man fully alive.” Christ revealed Himself for all, not just for a spiritual elite. Arianism in the 4th century shook the empire when Arius claimed Jesus was not truly God but a kind of exalted creature. At the Council of Nicaea (325), the bishops proclaimed what we still profess in the Creed every Sunday: “God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God.” Nestorianism in the 5th century tried to divide Jesus into two persons, denying Mary the title Theotokos, Mother of God, but the Church at Ephesus (431) defended Mary and the truth of the Incarnation: one divine Person, truly God and truly man. Pelagianism in the same century sounded appealing: “You can save yourself by your own strength, no need for grace.” But St. Augustine reminded the Church — and us — that everything is a gift. As the Catechism teaches (CCC 1996), “Our justification comes from the grace of God.” These were not small debates; they were battles for the very heart of the Gospel.

Sometimes people today wonder: “Why worry about heresies from long ago?” The answer is simple: because false ideas about God never really go away. They resurface, often dressed in new language. The temptation of Gnosticism reappears in modern “New Age” movements or secret cults promising hidden wisdom. The spirit of Arianism lives on when Jesus is reduced to just a good teacher, stripped of His divinity. Pelagianism lurks whenever we act as if we can “go it alone,” forgetting our need for grace and prayer. As Pope Benedict XVI once warned, “A dictatorship of relativism is being formed that does not recognize anything as definitive and whose ultimate goal consists solely of one's own ego and desires” (Homily, April 18, 2005). In other words, the same old heresies just put on modern clothing. Pope Francis echoes this when he writes in Evangelii gaudium (§94): “The great danger in today's world, pervaded as it is by consumerism, is the desolation and anguish born of a complacent yet covetous heart... Many fall prey to it, seeking only their own interests.” Like Pelagius of old, our age still tempts us to live as if God's grace is unnecessary.

Here's a fascinating twist: heresies even pushed the Church to close the canon of Scripture. In the 2nd century, a teacher named Marcion rejected the Old Testament and kept only parts of the New Testament he liked. His “cut-and-paste” Bible forced the Church to ask: “Wait a minute — what books are truly inspired?” Through prayer, tradition, and guidance of the Holy Spirit, local councils such as Hippo (393) and Carthage (397, 419) affirmed the canon of Scripture that Catholics still use today. In defending the faith against heresy, the Church safeguarded the treasure of the Bible itself — a fixed canon of books that cannot be added to or subtracted from. So, in a way, heresies (though harmful) had the unexpected effect of forcing the Church to clarify, define, and preserve the truth more clearly for future generations.

Heresies are not just dusty theological mistakes of history. They are reminders that the truth of our faith is a treasure we must guard with humility and joy. When we pray the Creed at Mass, we are not just reciting old words. We are standing with the apostles, the martyrs, the great councils, and popes of the Church, saying: “This is the faith of the Church. This is our faith. We are proud to profess it in Christ Jesus our Lord.” So, the next time you hear the Creed, let it be more than words. Let it be your shield against doubt, your compass in confusion, and your joyful “yes” to the God who revealed Himself fully in Jesus Christ. Because in the end, heresies fade, but truth remains. Or as Jesus Himself promised: “Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away” (Mt 24:35).

Theme: Theme: Gratitude and Leprosy of Our Day

28th Sunday of the Year C, October 12, 2025

First Reading: 2Kings 5:1-5, 10, 14-15, 17b Second Reading Gospel Luke 17:11-19

Today's liturgy lays strong emphasis on gratitude and how it should be expressed. It is very important to note in this reflection that Eucharistic celebration of the Mass is our highest expression of our thanks and gratitude for what God has done for us and that is why attending Mass every Sunday should be a priority in our schedule. The first reading and the Gospel narrate the miraculous healing of the people who were affected by leprosy and how they went back to give God thanks for what he had done for them. Naman in the first reading went back to give God thanks for his healing while in the Gospel it was only the foreigner that went back to thank God. Leprosy in the Old Testament is understood as a sickness caused by sin. Anyone who suffers from it must have committed a grievous sin that made God to punish the individual by the leprosy.

At times misfortune has a way of uniting people together and that's what happens in the gospel of today. In the common tragedy of their leprosy, they had forgotten they were Jews and Samaritan and remembered only that they were people in need. A leper suffers four distinct issues. 1) He or she is cut off from the family for fear of contaminating others with their sickness. 2) The individual is also driven away from the community. 3) The individual is also cut off from any form of religious practices, not even allowed to worship God with other members of the community. 4) The individual suffers as a person because of his sickness.

Therefore, when such an individual is healed, he is restored back to the community, family, the religious community and made whole. The people presented to us in today's reading received their healing through their humble acceptance of their situation and in humility ask God for healing. Secondly, they followed the direction of the one who seeks to help them. We need to identify the leprosy that affects us as a person, cuts us off from the family and community, our relationship with God and then affects our life. Thereafter, approach God with a sincere heart and humility and he will heal you. Then, we take the final step which is to give him thanks and gratitude for bringing us back to our community, family and closer relationship with him and for making us whole. Some of us tend to be ungrateful to our parents, forgetting that there was a time we were so dependent on our parents virtually for everything. But with time we begin to remember that they were unfair to us. No matter what we have against them let us always show gratitude to them. At times we are ungrateful to our spouses and to one another.

At times we are ungrateful to God. In a time of desperate need for something, we pray with great intensity but soon our prayers are answered then we forget God. The greatest thanks we can give God is to acknowledge his presence in our lifetime and presence before. We do this most expressively when we come to worship God in the Sunday Mass with other members of the community of faith.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.

REMEMBERING OUR LOVED ONES

By tradition, the Catholic Church dedicates the month of November to the Holy Souls in the Purgatory, those faithful Christians who have died and gone before us but who still must atone for their sins. The time they spend in Purgatory cleanses them so that they may enter heaven free from all effects of sin. Praying for the dead, especially for those we have known, is part of Christian charity. Our prayers and sacrifices can be offered up to relieve their suffering. The parish will offer over 40 Masses this November for all the faithfully departed whose names are written in the Book of Memory located in the Narthex of the church. This is a wonderful opportunity for you to pray for and remember your parents, children, grandparents, family and friends. Envelopes are available for your sacrificial offering to pray for the deceased.

RECORDADO A NUESTROS
SERES QUERIDOS

Por tradición, la Iglesia Católica dedica el mes de noviembre a las Benditas Almas del Purgatorio, aquellos cristianos fieles que han Muerto y se han ido antes que nosotros, pero que aun deben expiar sus pecados. El tiempo que pasan en el Purgatorio los purifica para que puedan entrar al Cielo libres de todos los efectos del pecado. Orar por los Muertos, especialmente por aquellos que hemos conocido, es parte de la caridad cristiana. Nuestras oraciones y sacrificios pueden ofrecerse para aliviar su sufrimiento. La parroquia ofrecerá mas de 40 misas en noviembre por todos los fieles difuntos cuyos nombres están escritos en el Libro de la Memoria ubicado en la entrada de la Iglesia. Esta es una maravillosa oportunidad para orar y recordar a sus padres, hijos, abuelos, familiares y amigos. Hay sobres disponibles para su ofrenda para orar por los difuntos.

Did you hear what Fr. Tony said???? We are ALL called to be involved in the work of evangelization. Sometimes that means ourselves!!! When was the last time you really “grew up” in the Faith or learned something truly meaningful about being Catholic? Yes, we would like more people to become Catholic by joining the OCIA but we also need adult Catholics to grasp more about their faith to be more effective in the Kingdom of God. Therefore, the OCIA classes are open to any parishioner. We meet on Tuesdays from 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm at HFPC. Come on down for some enlightenment and challenge! And oh yes, anyone wanting to become Catholic, you please come, too. See you there!!!

Sharing the Gospel

Jesus cured 10 men who had bleeding sores all over their skin. As they walked away, they noticed that they were cured. Their sores were gone and their skin was smooth. Nine of them ran to show their families and friends. They were happy. Only one man went back to thank Jesus for curing them. God loves you. Thank him for your family and friends. Thank him for healing you and giving you everything you need.
