CLARIFYING MARIAN TITLES: AN INVITATION TO FAITHFUL AND ECUMENICAL DEVOTION

Beloved Parishioners,

As we enter the season of advent I wish to reflect on the recent document from the Vatican on our Mother Mary. There is no doubt that we live in a time when devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary enjoys great vitality. At the same time, theological precision and clarity are necessary so that our love for Mary remains rooted in Christ and in the apostolic faith. To that end, the Dicastery for the Doctrine of the Faith has issued a new Doctrinal Note, titled Mater Populi Fidelis (“Mother of the Faithful People of God”), approved on 7 October 2025 and published on 4 November 2025. This document clarifies the usage of the titles “co-Redemptoris” and “Mediatrix of all graces” alluded to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

However, it is important to remember how the Church teaches and hands on the faith. Christ entrusted his apostles with the mission of teaching all nations (cf. Matthew 28:19–20). In his first letter to Timothy, St. Paul reminds us: “Guard the good deposit entrusted to you, with the help of the Holy Spirit who dwells within us.” (2 Timothy 1:14). The Magisterium (gotten from the Latin word “magister”—teacher) — namely the Pope and the bishops in communion with him — have the responsibility to authentically interpret Divine Revelation. As the Catechism of the Catholic Church states: “The task of giving an authentic interpretation of the Word of God... has been entrusted solely to the living teaching office of the Church.” (CCC, 85). And further: “The Magisterium is not superior to the Word of God but is its servant.” (CCC, 86).

In the Second Vatican Council’s Dei Verbum, we read: “The task of authentically interpreting the word of God... has been entrusted exclusively to the living teaching office of the Church.” (DV 10). This means that while Scripture and Tradition are the sources of revelation, the Magisterium ensures correct understanding, faithful preservation, and orderly transmission of that revelation.

That highlighted, let us get back to what the document says: its key content and underpinnings. Mater Populi Fidelis examines Marian titles that refer to her cooperation in the work of salvation. In particular, the note clarifies that the titles “Co-Redemptrix” and “Mediatrix of All Graces” are inappropriate or must be used with great care.

On Co-Redemptrix, the document holds that using this title carries the risk of “eclipsing Christ’s unique role as Redeemer” (Ephesians 1:7; Colossians 1:19–20). While on Mediatrix of All Graces, the text explains that while Mary truly intercedes for us, the mediation of Christ is singular and universal — “For there is one God and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.” (1 Timothy 2:5). The Dicastery of the Doctrine of Faith says the title can be used only in a subordinate sense that recognizes Christ’s primacy. The document also traces the historical development of these titles and outlines the theological reasons why a dogmatic definition is not appropriate at this time. It appeals for clarity in Marian devotion, avoiding expressions that might confuse the faithful or hinder ecumenical dialogue.

This particular clarification from the Vatican matters for several reasons. First, it safeguards the integrity of Christology — Christ is the one Mediator and Redeemer (Hebrews 12:24). Second, it supports ecumenical efforts, since exaggerated Marian titles can create barriers with our Christian brothers and sisters. The Protestant reformer Martin Luther decried appeals to Mary that detracted from solus Christus — Christ alone as Redeemer. Third, it helps the faithful in their Marian devotion to remain Christ-centered, ensuring that Mary’s role leads us always closer to her Son, not away from him. Fourth, it guides pastoral practice, catechesis, and piety, especially in cultural settings where Marian devotion is strong, such as here in America.

Dear friends, let us embrace this clarification with gratitude, not as a diminution of Mary’s honor, but as a deepening of our devotion in full communion with the Church and Christ. In doing so we foster unity — within our Catholic family and with our ecumenical neighbors. Let Mary’s motherhood be a bridge to Christ’s saving work, and let our Marian devotion be marked by humility, clarity, and charity.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.

Theme: Patience in the Face of Disappointment

3rd Sunday of Advent Year A, December 14, 2025

First Reading: Isaiah 35:1-6a, Second Reading: James 5:7-10, Gospel: Matthew 11:2-11

Today is third Sunday of Advent, traditionally called Gaudete Sunday, which means Rejoice because the coming of the Lord is very close at hand. That is why the color of the vestment is Rose instead of purple. This theme of rejoice comes out clearly in the first reading from the book of the prophet Isaiah when he says, “the desert and the parched land will exult, the steppe will rejoice and bloom, they will bloom with abundant flowers and rejoice with joyful song.” He goes further to prophecy, “say to those whose hearts are frightened: Be strong, fear not, here is your God, he comes with vindication, with divine recompense he comes to save us.” These words of Isaiah fill us with hope especially when we face certain challenges in our lives. He tells you and me, be strong and fear not, here comes your God. Our Lord comes to save us; he calls us to be strong and firm because his coming will bring us peace and joy. His coming will bring a transformation to our situation.

In the gospel we see John the Baptist from prison send out messengers to go and ask Jesus, “Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for another?” The question and tone with which it was addressed give us an impression of disappointment and anger. He felt disappointed because Jesus’ gentle attitude and approach to sinners and his acts of mercy do not fit into his mind set as the one, he was expecting. If we recall, we heard him last week preaching with fire and brimstone as he confronts the Sadducees and Pharisees and called them brood of vipers. But Jesus comes preaching mercy and love. So, he wanted to be sure that it was the one whom we were expecting.

At times in our own life, we can be disappointed with other people, we can be disappointed with our spouses or our own children or grandchildren. The reason why we feel disappointed is because we had expected much from them, and they seem to betray our expectation. Then that is why the message of James in today’s second reading becomes very important to us. James tells us today, be patient brothers and sisters. He says we should be patient as the farmer is patient waiting for what was sown to grow. He says be patient and avoid many complaints. When we feel disappointed even with ourselves, we need to be patient with ourselves and give ourselves some time to process the situation.

Flowers for Christmas

Blessings Parish Family,
What demonstrates "Christmas" better than a beautifully decorated Church during the Holiday Season? Christmas is right around the corner and every year during Christmas and Easter we are blessed with the beauty of our Church. All is made possible by you, our Church family, through your generous donations. We need your help. This year, as in years past, we will be accepting donations for Christmas flowers and decorations. You could donate: $5, $50, $500, $5000, or whatever God places in your heart to offer. The goal as always is to allow the beauty of our worship space to draw souls into deeper prayer and encounter with our Lord in the Word and in Eucharist. Please give generously. We need ribbons, appropriate fabrics and lots of flowers. Your donation may be in the name of your family, in memory of a loved one, or in thanksgiving.

You may place your monetary gift in an envelope and label it "Flowers for Christmas" or in the envelopes provided in the pews. Drop them in the offertory basket or drop them off at the Parish Office prior to December 15, 2025.

God Bless You and thank you for helping make our God's house beautiful for Christmas.

"What is St. Joan of Arc's favorite Christmas carol?"

"O, Holy Knight!"

St. Joan of Arc led the French to victory in 1429, a valiant soldier for Jesus. (Being French, she probably preferred French carols, though).

CELEBRATING THE JUBILEE
HOPE FOR GREATER
CHRISTIAN UNITY

TILMA

Pope Francis reminded us that this Jubilee Year also coincides with the 1700th anniversary of the Council of Nicaea held in 325 AD. This ecumenical council addressed the Arian controversy and established that Jesus Christ is consubstantial with God the Father. The Council was convened by Emperor Constantine to end the Arian heresy which questioned the divinity of Jesus. Its main outcome was the formulation of the Nicene Creed which affirmed that the Son is "begotten, not created, consubstantial with the Father." We say this at every Mass where the Creed is recited. One of the ten Hopes from the Jubilee Year is the Hope for Greater Christian Unity. The Jubilee actively promotes the ecumenical movement, seeing unity as a shared pilgrimage and a central part of the Church's mission. The "ecumenism of martyrs" is a key theme as Christians from different groups are persecuted and killed together, their shared sacrifice becoming a powerful sign of unity. We need to be praying for an end to all the violence facing Christians worldwide, especially Africa. We cannot give up this Hope for HOPE DOES NOT DISAPPOINT!

CELEBRANDO EL JUBILEO
ESPERANZA DE UNA MAYOR
UNIDAD

TILMA

El Papa Francisco nos recordó que este Año Jubilar también coincide con el 1700^o aniversario del Concilio de Nicea, celebrado en el año 325 d.C. Este concilio ecuménico abordó la controversia arriana y estableció que Jesucristo es consustancial con Dios Padre. El Concilio fue convocado por el emperador Constantino para poner fin a la herejía arriana, que cuestionaba la divinidad de Jesús. Su principal resultado fue la formulación del Credo Niceno, que afirmaba que el Hijo es "engendrado, no creado, consustancial con el Padre." Decimos esto en cada Misa donde se recita el Credo. Una de las diez Esperanzas del Año Jubilar es la Esperanza de una Mayor Unidad Cristiana. El Jubileo promueve activamente el movimiento ecuménico, viendo la unidad como una peregrinación compartida y una parte central de la misión de la Iglesia. El "ecumenismo de los mártires" es un tema clave, ya que los cristianos de diferentes grupos son perseguidos y asesinados juntos, y su sacrificio compartido se convierte en un poder signo poderoso de unidad. Necesitamos estar orando por el fin de toda la violencia que enfrentan los cristianos en todo el mundo, especialmente en África. ¡No podemos renunciar a esta Esperanza porque LA ESPERANZA NO DECEPCIONA!

Sharing the Gospel

Name someone that you think is very important. Jesus said that John the Baptist was the greatest man ever born. John the Baptist did not live in a big house or wear nice clothes. He was not the president, and he did not own a huge company. You would probably think he was very poor. But John the Baptist was truly great because he loved and trusted God with his whole heart. He helped other people follow God, too.
