THE HOLY SPIRIT AND MARY'S VIRGINAL BIRTH: EXPLAINING THE MYSTERY OF THE INCARNATION

Beloved Parishioners,

The very essence of Christmas which we just celebrated is the celebration of the Incarnation of the Son of God—the decisive moment in which God entered human history by assuming human nature. In this singular event, divinity embraced humanity without confusion or diminishment and opened up the window for the economy of our salvation. The Incarnation therefore stands as the deepest mystery of the Christian faith and the pivotal moment in God's redemptive plan for the world.

At the heart of this mystery lies the person and mission of the Holy Spirit, whose action renders the Incarnation both possible and salvific, while simultaneously safeguarding the truth of Mary's virginal motherhood. The Church has consistently taught that the Incarnation is not a unilateral act of the Son alone but a Trinitarian event: the Father sends the Son; the Son freely assumes human nature; and the Holy Spirit brings this divine plan to fulfillment within history.

This Trinitarian dynamic is clearly articulated in the Gospel of Luke. When Mary questions how she can conceive while remaining a virgin, the angel Gabriel responds: "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore, the child to be born will be called holy, the Son of God." (Luke 1:35) Here, the Holy Spirit is revealed as the effective agent of the Incarnation, ensuring that the conception of Jesus is entirely God's initiative rather than the result of human generation. The Catechism of the Catholic Church affirms this truth with clarity: "The Holy Spirit is the master of God's works... It was by the Holy Spirit that the Virgin Mary conceived and bore the Son of God." (CCC 721, 723)

Consequently, Mary's virginity—before, during, and after the birth of Christ—is not merely a biological detail but a theological sign. It proclaims that salvation is pure gift, originating from divine grace rather than human effort. As Lumen Gentium teaches, Mary "gave birth to the Son of God... not knowing man but overshadowed by the Holy Spirit." (LG 63) Equally significant is Mary's free consent. Her fiat—"Let it be done to me according to your word" (Luke 1:38)—does not diminish divine sovereignty but reveals the mystery of grace cooperating with human freedom. Pope St. John Paul II underscores this in Redemptoris Mater: "Mary uttered this fiat in faith, responding to the Holy Spirit's action with total openness" (RM 13). Thus, Mary becomes the model of faith, obedience, and docility to the Holy Spirit. The Fathers of the Church unanimously affirm the decisive and sanctifying role of the Holy Spirit in the Incarnation.

From the Holy Spirit's role in the Incarnation flow important moral and spiritual lessons that can help us shape our Christian existence. First, the Incarnation teaches obedience and docility. Mary's fiat reveals that authentic moral greatness begins in attentive openness to God's will. As St. Irenaeus famously teaches, "the knot of Eve's disobedience was untied by Mary's obedience" (Adversus Haereses, III.22.4). Second, the mystery underscores humility. God chooses what is lowly, not what is powerful by worldly standards. The Spirit overshadows humility, not self-assertion. Christian morality therefore rejects domination, pride, and self-glorification. Third, the Incarnation calls believers to purity and holiness. The Spirit sanctifies both Mary and the humanity assumed by Christ, reminding the faithful that holiness involves integrity of heart, intention, and life. As the Catechism notes, the Spirit prepares humanity "to receive Christ" (CCC 722). Fourth, the Incarnation highlights cooperation with grace (synergia). Divine grace does not negate human freedom but elevates it. Christian moral life is thus a dynamic collaboration with the Spirit's work. Fifth, the Incarnation reveals the primacy of service (diakonia). God's entry into human history is an act of radical self-emptying. Authentic Christian leadership—especially ordained ministry—must therefore be rooted in humble service rather than clerical domination. Finally, Mary's experience teaches trust amid uncertainty. Her faith in the face of social risk and personal ambiguity challenges believers to trust God even when obedience leads into suffering or the unknown.

The Incarnation, brought about by the Holy Spirit through the virginal consent of Mary, is not just a doctrine to be professed or believed but a pattern of life to be lived out. May we be filled with the Holy Spirit to renew our Yuletide experience in the light of the newborn Christ.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.

Theme: The Power of the Holy Spirit

The Baptism of the Lord Year A, January 11, 2026

First Reading: Isaiah 42:1-4, Second Reading: Acts 10:34-38, Gospel: John 3:13-17, 21a

Today is the baptism of the Lord when Our Lord Jesus Christ received baptism from the hand of John the Baptist. There are three major lessons or messages we learn from the baptism of Jesus we celebrate today. The first message is the humility of Jesus who humbled himself to receive or accept baptism from John. Ordinarily, it is Jesus being the son of God who should baptize John but since John has been doing it, Jesus went like any other person to receive baptism from John. Humility is the mother of all virtues and to be humble does not remove from us what we are but rather enhances what we are. That is what was demonstrated in Jesus humbling himself to accept baptism from John.

In the Gospel passage of Matthew, we read that “after Jesus has been baptized and he came out and was praying, the heaven was opened and the Holy Spirit descended upon him like a dove.” This tells us that as Jesus was in prayer heaven opens for the Spirit of God to descend upon him. It was his prayer that threw the door of heaven open. To pray means to recognize the power of God in us, to pray means to acknowledge our dependence on the need of God in our lives. Prayer is a force that breaks heaven open for the Spirit of God to come down and rest upon us. When heaven is open to us our prayers are answered and our petition heard.

The Holy Spirit is the presence of God’s power. The Holy Spirit is a power that transforms us and make us truly the children of God. It is power at work in the world. When the Spirit came upon Elijah fire came down from heaven, when the Spirit came upon Joshua the whole city of Jerusalem fell into his hands. When we ourselves pray, the Holy Spirit will come upon us.

When the Spirit came upon Jesus at his baptism, the Spirit empowered him to heal and teach, to give up his life on the cross for humanity and finally to rise from the dead. It is by the power of the Holy Spirit the bread and wine are changed into the sacred body and blood of Christ by the words of the priest at Mass. By baptism we too, have received the Holy Spirit dwelling in us. Let us invoke the Holy Spirit for he is alive, let us invoke the Holy Spirit for he is effective, let us invoke the Holy Spirit for he is with us and will change and transform every situation in our families and lives.

The Virtue for January is Faith

WAYS TO CULTIVATE FAITH

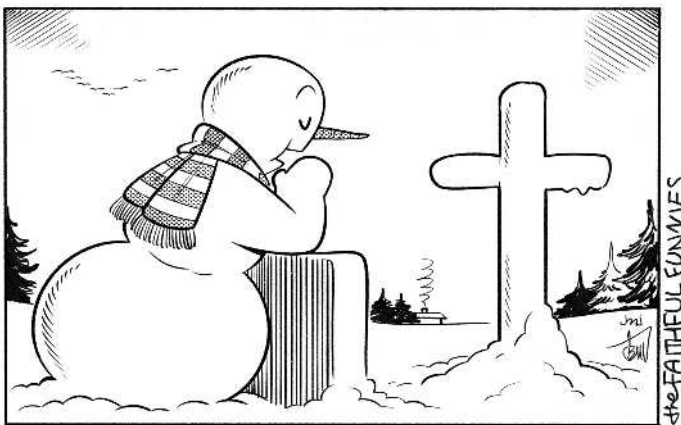

- ◆ Pray often
- ◆ Receive the Sacraments often, especially the Eucharist and Reconciliation which nourishes our soul with His life and grace
- ◆ Study the Catholic Faith and traditions

The theological virtue of faith enables one to know God and all He has revealed. It sanctifies human intelligence and enables one to be united to God.

OCIA marches on!!! Is God calling you?
OCIA is for any adult who would like to learn more about the Catholic Faith and is the path to being received fully into the Catholic Church. It is also for any Catholic adult who needs to complete their sacraments of initiation (Holy Eucharist and Confirmation). And any Catholic who is interested in learning about the Faith more deeply is always welcome.

"What's a snowman's favorite devotion?"

Novenas are a focused way of praying, often for nine days in a row. Give one a try!

Prayer to Saint Michael, the Archangel

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, thrust into hell, Satan and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

Oración a San Miguel Arcángel

San Miguel Arcángel, defiéndenos en la lucha; sé nuestro amparo contra la maldad y asechanzas del demonio. Pedimos suplicantes que Dios lo mantenga bajo su imperio; y tu, Príncipe de la milicia celestial, arroja al infierno, con el poder divino, a Satanás y a los otros espíritus malvados que andan por el mundo para la perdición de las almas. Amén.
