God has made Jesus both Lord and Messiah. Through his wounds, we have been healed and have returned to our shepherd. Let us listen for his voice and follow him.

Pastor's Corner

BAPTISM: OUR CONSECRATION TO PRAYER

Beloved Parishioners,

My reflection is centered on prayer and how baptism makes us special people consecrated to God. Have you ever considered that your baptism was not just a ceremony, but a consecration—a setting apart for something sacred? Today I wish to draw our hearts to this powerful truth, namely: that we are a people consecrated to prayer. And this consecration began the day we were plunged into the waters of Baptism. Through Baptism, we were not just washed of original sin—we were adopted into God's family, united with Christ in His death and resurrection (Colossians 2:12–14), and clothed with the dignity of the firstborn sons and daughters in Christ Jesus.

Like Abraham, our baptism qualifies us to stand before God as intercessors of faith. In Genesis 18:20–32, Abraham dares to approach the Lord—not as a stranger, but as a friend. He pleads for Sodom with a heart full of mercy. Abraham's courage in prayer is not presumption; it flows from his covenant relationship with God. That's what Baptism gives us too—access. As baptized members of the Body of Christ, we have the right and privilege to stand in intercession—not only for ourselves but for our families, our parish, our nation, and the world. St. John Chrysostom once said: "The power of prayer has overcome enemies, extinguished wars, appeased God... it has bridled the fury of lions, silenced storms, and conquered demons." How humbling it is that we, like Abraham, are entrusted with such divine access.

But let's be honest: sometimes we forget or even neglect this important gift. Life is busy—between work, family, school, traffic, and daily stress, prayer can feel far away. And yet, St. Alphonsus Liguori reminds us: "Those who pray are certainly saved; those who do not pray are certainly lost." Prayer is not about fancy words. It's about the heart. It's about showing up—just like we call a loved one to stay connected, we are called to speak to our Father every day. As God's beloved children, we are called to speak to Him intimately, to bring our needs before Him, and to remain in constant union. It follows that prayer for us, is not optional—it is our very breath as Christians. It is what sustains us in grace. And remember, prayer is not always about words. Sometimes it is silence. Sometimes it is tears. Sometimes, it's simply lighting a candle and sitting with God. As St. Teresa of Avila said, "Prayer is nothing but a friendly conversation with the One we know loves us."

We must constantly be aware that prayer is powerful, but it can be hindered. God is always ready to hear us. "The Lord's hand is not too short to save, nor his ear too dull to hear," says Isaiah 59:1. But the next verse warns us: "Your iniquities have been barriers between you and your God" (Isaiah 59:2). Sin closes the ears of our heart. It creates a chasm that weakens our communion with God. When we gossip, hold grudges, or live in selfishness, our prayers begin to feel empty. This teaches us that as baptized sons and daughters, we must strive for holiness—not out of fear, but because we love the One who first loved us. That's why we must return often to confession—to clear the channel, so to speak, and come back to prayer with clean hearts.

What privilege we have that Jesus himself teaches us how to pray. In Luke 11:1–13, Jesus gives us the Our Father—not just as a formula, but as a school of prayer. We learn to call God Abba, Father. What a privilege! Through Baptism, the Spirit within us cries out, "Abba, Father!" (Romans 8:15). We no longer approach God as beggars, but as beloved children. Jesus also reminds us of God's generosity: "Ask and you will receive... How much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him!" (Luke 11:9,13). Let us, then, ask boldly, seek diligently, and knock persistently.

Beloved Parishioners, Baptism made us more than churchgoers. It consecrated us people of prayer. Whether you're a student preparing for exams, a mother cooking for her family, or an elder sitting quietly with your Rosary, you are consecrated to prayer. Jesus said, "We ought always to pray and not lose heart" (Luke 18:1). In a world of troubles—be it economic hardship, insecurity, or loneliness—prayer is where we find our strength. I ask you, beloved parishioners, to keep me in your prayers as I begin my vacation this week and, on my return, take my new assignment at Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Scottsdale. And may the Blessed Virgin Mary, our Mother in faith, who pondered and prayed in all things, teach us to pray with her same trust and surrender. Amen.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.

Theme: Jesus is Our Good Shepherd

4th Sunday of Easter Year A, April 26, 2026

First Reading Acts 2:14a, 36-41, Second Reading 1 Peter 2:20b-25, Gospel John 10:1-10

A profound message in today's first reading is the reaction of the people after listening to Peter's speech. The author of the "Acts of the Apostles" says that "they were cut to the heart" and they asked the question "what are we to do?" To be cut to the heart means that the words spoken made a deep impact on their lives. They listened with an open mind and their hearts burning with a great desire to make a change... "God's words are spirit, and they are alive" and when one opens the heart to God's word it provokes a response of change of heart. This is the reason the people had to ask what they must do. In response to their question, Peter told them to repent and be baptized. Peter's response to them means a complete change of attitude and a beginning of a new life in Jesus. Repentance is a sign of acknowledgement of the need to do better. This is what the word of God encourages us to do, to desire to do better in our relationship with God, with one another and with our environment. How often have we listened to God's words, and it promotes a change of heart.

The gospel presents us with the metaphor of Jesus as the Good Shepherd who is the gate keeper and opens the door for his sheep. A shepherd cares, leads, and protects the sheep under his care. A good shepherd risks his life to defend the sheep. This is what Jesus did for us when he gave his life on the cross that we may be saved. In the same way Jesus cares, leads and protects us as his own sheep. The most outstanding aspect of the shepherd's role is that he knows his sheep very well. He knows those who are weak, sick, fragile, strong and those who need more attention. The sheep listens to his voice whenever he calls them. It is expected that, we as His sheep, should pay attention to the voice of Jesus our good shepherd. To listen to His voice requires being obedient to His teachings and commandments. To listen to Jesus our good shepherd demands making time out for him in our busy schedule to be with him.

A good shepherd knows each by name and he calls them by name. To call each by name means that he knows each of them personally. In this way, Jesus, our good shepherd, knows each of us personally and He calls us by name because we are His own. As our good shepherd, Christ our Risen Lord knows us better than anyone. He knows us more than we even know ourselves. He knows our temptations, our struggles, and our failings. He even knows our every thought, word, and desire. This is why we should trust Him with our struggles and challenges without fear or shame because He knows us personally.

Finally, Jesus our Risen Lord, as our good shepherd, feeds us with His body in the Eucharist. Let us come to Him, let us approach Him and let us allow Him to lead us, our shepherd, and He will lead us to the good pasture.

Fr. Tony Okolo C.S.Sp., V.F.
